THE L. & E.

While the people of Jackson and Breathitt county boast of a rapid growth and industrial expansion during the last decade, they should not fail to ascribe proper credit to whomsoever credit is due for such expansion.

The Lexington and Eastern railroad which now penetrates the mountain section of Kentucky, extending from Lexington, in the heart of the Bluegrass to Jackson, in the heart of the mountains, has possibly figured more than any other factor in the upbuilding and development of this section, and vast territory tributary to Jackson. It found Jackson fifteen years ago only a small town and opened up to it at once a means of intercourse with the outside world. It placed us within speaking distance with the cities, gave us newspapers and periodicals not yet dry from the press, placed us within reach and within touch of our theretofore more fortunate neighbors and infused into our people a more exalted idea of living. It brought us churches, schools and, and investment and enterprise, and improved conditions of industry, and made it possible for Jackson to become, as it is today, one of the best towns in Kentucky. It found us with boundless areas of timber and coal which up to that time had never interested a buyer, and it at once placed our resources as attractive investments on the markets of the outside world and now instead of our property holders seeking investment and failing to find it, capital is daily coming this way. Our timber is being removed and placed on the markets of the world, and other values are coming to take its place; our mines are being explored and developed, but their untold treasures will furnish labor and capital and profit for the generations yet unborn. And that is not all nor could we name the blessings and benefits that have come to us by being placed in immediate touch with the enlightened portions of the world.

Our citizenship has been improved and advanced; many of our people have sought homes in the West and others have taken their place, and by gradual, though decisive means, our people have been greatly improved. They have adopted the benefits that come from culture and enlightenment, and have sought to bring to our homes the conveniences and accommodations that have been employed in the outside world, and we can say today that we have an attractive city, a place suitable and sufficient for the abode of any man. These things have come to us by reason of having been given the blessings of material development, and the elevated and enlightened citizenship.

And as to the personnel of the managers of the railroad, and especially as the local employees for the past ten years, it might be said that we have been most fortunate in being given men of character and ability, as well as men of agreeableness, of kindness and accommodation. Many of our citizens remember with pleasure such agents as Hargrave and Hornbrook, and the more recent agents in the persons of J. W. Prewitt, who is now a valued citizen of Jackson, and Mr. ... who so eminently fills the position of depot agent at Jackson at the same time.

All our people remember the late lamented J. B. ... who so faithfully and ably administered the affairs of the railroad for several years. The road is fortunate in having such men as W. A. McDowell, general manager, as Chas. Scott as passenger agent, and others of ability and foresight in the management of the road at Lexington.

This reference is not made at this time with the intention of indulging in fulsome praise of the L. & E. railroad or its officers, but it is for the purpose of acknowledging credit that is properly due to worthy servants of the public.

Crockettsville.

John Davidson, who is handling timber here, has gone to Jackson to visit his parents and attend the Baptist revival. He will also visit the skating rink while in Jackson and do some artistic skating. Mrs. George Deaton has been on the sick list for a few days. John Thompson and Albert McIntosh, accompanied by their wives, visited Mrs. Mary E. Deaton Sunday. Ira Cornett and wife and Rose Turner visited Wm. Sebastian and family Saturday. Archie and Clifton Sebastian and Ollie Deaton visited Arch and Fronie Sebastian Sunday. Mrs. Lewis Baker, who has been sick, is improving. Miss ... of Jackson was visiting ... of Long's creek was at Jackson Friday inquiring if a deed for timber sold by his father had been acknowledged before his father's death, and said that if no deed had been made and acknowledged before his father's death that done could now be made, except by an order of the court, because the death of his father involved minor heirs in the estate. The citizens of the southwestern part of the county are highly elated over the timber and land deal between a Michigan real estate firm and the New Era Land Co. The Michigan firm has promised to construct a railroad from Heidelberg by the way of upper Buffalo creek during the coming season. Ira Deaton and his sisters, Misses Pearl and Nancy, were visiting their aunt, Nancy Lewis, Sunday. Elden Kiley and wife, of Buckhorn, were visiting the latter's mother on Miller branch Sunday. Mrs. Nancy Helton, who has been nearly blind for two months, has about recovered her sight.

A REPORT CORRECTED.
I desire to say to the readers of The Breathitt County News that the report that is now being circulated on Cane Creek and the adjoining neighborhood that I took Mrs. Ed Callahan from her home when she disappeared, or had any connection whatever in her leaving home, is false, and is without any foundation so far as the truth is concerned. I believe that the report was circulated to do me some damage, or to cause trouble between Ed Callahan and myself.

THE Jr. O. U. A. M.

BY ELD. J. D. HUNTER.

CANNEL CITY, Ky., 12, 4, 07.
Here a great work was to be accomplished. It is a starting point of a new era in the progress and political life of mankind. Our influence extends to the ends of the earth, thrilling and cheering humble homes and wrecking and defying haughty thrones. Our thoughts, our ways, our inventions, our beneficent teachings, go as far as the winds and the waves go. On the broad bosom of our country, under the aegis of liberty and law, of justice and authority of education and morality, are gathered all tongues, all creeds, all customs and peoples. For the first time in human annals we have undertaken by right doing and patriotic endeavor through the triumph and perpetuity of free institutions to demonstrate to the world that freedom is good and forever blest of God.

Our republic stands alone in the history of civil government and has illustrated constitutional freedom in all its beneficence, power and grandeur. Nowhere else has government so enabled man, so elevated woman, so inspired its young men with heroism and ambition, so helped them in their aims in life, so made citizenship glorious by the expansion of christian morality and intelligence, so fostered letters, the arts, the sciences, so protected every creed, so smoothed the road of life and given to all an equal chance for happiness and homes.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics is pledged to stand by and maintain this grand independent American country. I will oppose the landing upon the American soil the undesirable people today than that of foreign immigration. Every part of this free American country of ours has felt to some degree the demoralizing effect of the free admission of aliens, unfettered, morally and mentally, to mingle and participate among free born American citizens. It is immigration that is feeding and making fat the liquor powers, filling graves with drunkards, leaving widows and orphans to suffer and be thrown out on a cold-hearted world. It is immigration that is giving the Roman Catholic church its strength. Immigration is the mother and nurse of anarchy. Who was it that took the lives of Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield and the gallant William McKinley? It was that anarchy spirit that had its birth and growth in the tide of immigration and dumped on the American soil, and found no rest until it assaulted and took the lives of these three highly and well-beloved American patriots, leaving this nation draped in mourning and the hearts of American fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters bleeding?

There cannot be too great a safeguard thrown around our country against the landing upon the American soil the undesirable and immoral immigrants of the old world. Our suffrage cost the hardships and life blood of the true blue-eyed American patriots, and we, as their sons and daughters, ought to stand by and sustain the freedom and liberty that we are enjoying today, and transmit to our children the same great legacy and matchless citizenship that we have received from our ancestors.

During the year ending June 3, 1907, there landed at Ellis Island, New York harbor 1,004,756 immigrants, of whom more than half located in New York and Pennsylvania—187,618 in the latter State. Many of the men found work in the construction of railroad tunnels in New York and in the mines and iron mills of Pennsylvania.

Floyd Little, of Elkton, visited Chester Little Monday.

Misses Sarah and Clara Callahan attended Sunday school here Sunday.

Elihue and Millard Reynolds, of Canoe, passed through here Saturday enroute to Owsley county to visit relatives.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely, being attended by large crowds, composed of adults, as well as youths. All seem to be interested in the good work.

Peter Stamper, of Sebastian's creek, visited his father-in-law Thanksgiving. The family was more than delighted to see him, as he had been absent for some time.

A church and cottage is now in course of construction for the missionaries. A school will be conducted in the church this winter for the benefit of the children. Instruction free.

I read an article in The News from Peabody in which the writer seemed to think Burton's dog is a Beckham dog. He is mistaken. He is like his master--he was for Wilson, but is now for Bradley for the Senate. He has swelled the number of opossums to 55, also two skunks.

The shadow of death has visited our neighborhood and laid its hands on one of our best neighbors, America Hays, who died last Saturday of pneumonia, after an illness of two weeks. She was buried Sunday on the farm where she had lived. She was about 50 years old, a good woman and well liked by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and 11 children.

Old aunt Patsy, Combs died Sunday night and was buried Monday in the Rose Bend grave yard. She was 71 years old and her death was caused by dropsy. She leaves several children. She said she was ready to go. God has said from dust thou art and unto dust thou shalt return. So death is certain to us all. God's word will prevail over us all.

Capt. Wm. L. Hurst celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday last Thursday. Many of his friends and relatives spent the day with him, and report that they partook of the most sumptuous dinner of the season.

Misses Lulu and Lizzie Combs, of Stillwater, were the guests at the home of B. D. Rose Monday. C. F. Combs and S. G. Sample spent last Friday and Saturday on Lacey's Creek hunting. They report a death list of 22 birds and a few rabbits. Oil well No. 7 has been recently commenced on the E. F. Duff farm.

The protracted meeting which has been in progress here for the past week is still continuing. The services are being conducted by the Revs. Tolson and Mathew, of the local Baptist and Methodist churches, respectively. W. L. Kash and Kelly Kash, of Jackson, have been spending the past few days with their parents at this place. Kelly left here Monday morning for Frankfort where he expects to stay until after the inauguration.

Easy to Mix This.

What will appear very interesting to many people here in the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in a teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic affections with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

UNJUST TAX PLAN

The Tax Commissioners of the States Agree

In Denouncing General Tax System Like Ours—Full of Evils in Operation.

In discussing tax questions in Kentucky and elsewhere, frequent reference is made to the "general property tax." This is the kind of system Kentucky has in force. It is the system that is in force in most of the states.

Briefly, the general property tax is a uniform ad valorem tax levied upon all classes of property alike, regardless of the nature of the earning capacity or of the tangible or intangible character of the property. The taxing authority of a state, for instance, will levy a tax of 50 cents. This tax is to fall upon every kind of property alike. Everything of value, whether real estate, money in bank, notes, bonds, mortgages, shares of stock, live stock, wagons, carriages, jewelry, furniture, any sort of personal property, or franchises of corporations is called property and must pay this tax. This is the general property tax. The general property tax is, therefore, the levying of a uniform ad valorem tax on all property for all purposes.

As distinct from this system is the system of classifying property, raising taxes on one kind of property, and on another kind of property, and city revenues from still another kind, and also the raising of revenues by special taxes of various kinds. The argument in the tax world today is between these two systems of raising the public revenue.

The Kentucky system is the general property tax. Our constitution binds us to the levy of a uniform ad valorem tax on all property of every kind for all purposes. If a piece of property is located in the city it is taxed for all purposes. It must be taxed for all. If it is a property-earning 5 per cent return to its owner, it must pay the same tax as property earning 30 per cent. If it is a kind that can be removed or hidden it is taxed the same as real estate. It can be found. No distinction is made on any account whatever; all property must pay the same rate.

This sounds like a very fair system, and in theory, it is fair. But its operation, in the opinion of those who have studied the question, not in Kentucky only but in every state in the Union, has not borne out the promise made for it. The system has been abandoned in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Oregon, and partially in a number of other states. The rapid tendency of the states and impracticability of the system, as it is, has caused a number of states to have a tax commission have within the last few years appointed tax commissions to study the methods of raising public revenues and, almost invariably, the reports of these commissions have denounced the general property tax system, the system that we have in Kentucky, as being absurd, impossible of enforcement and unjust in its operation.

Denounced by Supreme Court. The supreme court of the United States lends the way in denouncing the system. In its opinion in the case of the Pacific Express Co. vs. Helbert, the court said:

"This court has repeatedly laid down the doctrine that diversity of taxation, both with respect to the amount imposed and the various species of property selected either for bearing its burdens or being exempt from them, is not inconsistent with a perfect uniformity and equality of taxation in the proper sense of those terms; and that a system which imposes the same tax upon every species of property, irrespective of its nature or condition or class, will be destructive of the principle of uniformity and equality in taxation and of a just adaptation of property to its burdens."

An Illinois tax commission has declared that the uniform ad valorem general property tax, the system that we have also in Kentucky, "is debauching to the conscience and subversive to the public morals—a school for perjury, promoted by law."

An Ohio tax commission has denounced it as "imposing unjust burdens on the man who is scrupulously honest," and Ohio is engaged in an effort to get rid of it.

A New Hampshire tax commission deplores its "corrupting and demoralizing influence."

A New York tax commission says: "It puts a premium on perjury and a penalty on integrity."

In an address to the general assembly of Maryland, Richard T. Ely, one of the greatest of our publicists said: "The one uniform tax on all property as an exclusive source of revenue never has worked well in any modern community or state in the entire civilized world, though it has been tried thousands of times, and although all the mental resources of able men have been employed to make it work well."

Prof. E. A. Angell, late tax commissioner of Ohio, said in an article in the Independent: "The indirect results of the operation of the law of capital from the state, it is estimated that at least $200,000,000 has been lost to Cleveland alone, and as much more to Cincinnati."

Barred Out. "Noah never would have made a successful poker player."

"Why not?" "Because with all his efforts he never was more than two of a kind."—Baltimore American.

GET RICH QUICK.

Schemes of this class have again come to grief along with the gullible investors, causing serious loss to innocent business concerns, as is always the case of panics in Wall St.

While this last lesson is yet fresh in mind, it is an opportune moment to consider causes and means to avoid like trouble in the future.

Direct your attention to that greatest of all Newspapers the Cincinnati Enquirer. From its columns one can readily detect the trend of currency, its lodging places, by whom handled, uses made of it, and final results.

Again you read quotations of Bonds, Stocks, and Securities of every nature, fixing Status of all business from the retailer, to United States Government.

Also Current News, facts and reliable data covering the entire world; all sufficiently explicit to enable thinking people to avoid snags and follow the channel of success.

Its extra size and high price, is the secret of its ability to discover, obtain, print and serve its patrons with all the news, and cater to wants of people in every calling of life.

The Weekly Enquirer for the year 1908 has greatly increased its Clubbing offers which now include the most select and popular publications of the day at prices slightly over half the regular Subscription rates.

Do not overlook the fact that the year 1908 promises to excel in prosperity any of the past, and that the Enquirer printed at Cincinnati, Ohio, is one of the most reliable sources of information.
